OREGON
State Insane and Idiotic Asylum.
DRS. HAWTHORNE & LORYEA,
PHYSICIANS AND PROPRIETORS.
IN PURSUANCE OF A LAW, PASSED BY THE present Legislative Assembly, the Oregon State Insane and Idiotic Asylum is located in East Portland (in this county), Drs. Hawthorne & Loryea, Physicians and Proprietors.
The Proprietors of the above Establishment will immediately make additions to their present building, in order to make accommodations to all who are unfortunate enough to need the care and treatment of an Insane or Idiotic Asylum.
It is specially requested on the part of County Judges, guardians and friends of this class of patients, to have them immediately conveyed to the Asylum, so that they may be properly cared for before the inclement weather sets in.
THE INDIGENT WILL BE SUPPORTED AT THE EXPENSE OF THE STATE, and no receipt of debt made against them. For further particulars apply to
Drs. HAWTHORNE & LORYEA,
Physicians of the Oregon State Insane & Idiotic Asylum.

WILCOX & GIBBS
SEWING MACHINE.
We would call attention to the following facts in connection with this Machine, which render it superior to any other in use:
It forms a flat elastic seam which will not rip in wear;
It is entirely noiseless;
A patented device prevents its being turned backward;
The needle cannot be set wrong;
Can be used successfully without other instructions than accompany the Machine;
It received the Gold Medal of the American Institute in 1863. For particulars, enquire of

CUSTER'S RECONNOISANCE.—The following interesting sketch of an important movement is from the New York Tribune:

ARMY OF SHENANDOAH, Dec. 23.—At Mount Jackson and beyond information was obtained that the rebel cavalry was falling back, and the supposition was that they intended to retreat until they got under the cover of their infantry at Staunton. The rebel hospital at Woodstock contained fifteen wounded and some sick in charge of a surgeon. At other points along the road their hospital flags were still flying. The intelligence announced to them by Gen. Custer of the victories of Gen. Thomas, and of the successful march and victories of Sherman created much enthusiasm among the troops, and they made the valley ring with their cheers.

The division went into camp on both sides of the pike, the Fifth New Hampshire and Eighth New York having the advance, encamped on the right of the pike in front; the remainder of the regiments filing off and encamping at intervals in line-of-battle, regimental front and occupied about a mile along the road. It was dark when the troops went into camp. During the night rain began to fall and freeze; the troops had no covering and suffered considerably from cold and wet. It was a fearful night for the poor soldier.

There was no alarm during the night. But about four o'clock in the morning word came to the commander of the Eighth New York from the picket line, that the rebels were advancing on the flank, and orders were immediately given to prepare to mount. They were all saddled up, and soon two squadrons were mounted and drawn up at the headquarters of that regiment. The other squadrons were just "going to horse." At this juncture a yell and a simultaneous volley, and the flash of rebel carbines and the rifles gave warning that the rebels were already in their camp in large force. The two regiments which received the first shock of the charge replied with their carbines and revolvers. It was very dark, the enemy had on our own overcoats, which rendered it impossible to discriminate between friend and foe. All firing was made at random. The rebels came in with drawn sabers, and a hand to hand encounter commenced.

Being soon greatly outnumbered, our men fell back upon the body of the division in order to form a new line. They stopped at a quarter of a mile back and reformed—the Fifteenth New York, Twenty-second New York and First Vermont making a counter charge, pitching in pell-mell, and the rebels in turn giving way and crossing a small stream. By this time firing was general all along the right flank and throughout the camp. It was a free fight, and no one knew who stood next him. The only way to distinguish friend from foe was by the sound of the voice. Indiscriminate robbing and plunder took place. The rebels seemed to be quite sure of capturing all the horses, and the remark was frequently heard, "Let go your horse," "Cut loose the horses," "Let 'em run," "They are all safe;" and such like expressions. It finally came to fight like that of the Irishman—every man "on his own hook." A rebel would capture, strip and rob one of our men, and then take him right into one of our regiments as a prisoner. By the time they had exhibited the trophies, they found themselves in the wrong camp, and in turn yielded themselves as prisoners. The same laughable mistakes were, in some instances, committed by our own men. One rebel marched into Gen. Custer's headquarters, and asked what regiment that was. Gen. Custer ordered him to "take off that blue overcoat," and handed him over a prisoner.

"Halt—where do you belong?" would usually precede any offensive demonstration. What followed depended wholly upon the answer of the person addressed. Dr. Adams was mounted upon a very heavy gray stallion. A party met him across the road, and although he thought himself in the presence of the Union column, he was really among Rosser's men. A person wearing a Captain's uniform, accosted him with, "Where do you belong?" "Surgeon of the Eighth New York," was the Doctor's answer. "Then, G—d d—n you, get off that horse," said the rebel. At the same instant he wheeled himself in front, and the Doctor received a blow from a saber across his back and shoulders from behind, which threw him off his balance; his cap fell off, and the Captain brought his saber down upon his bare head, which ended all further consciousness for a time. When he came to, the Doctor found a party of rebels standing over him; his pockets had been turned wrongside out, and heard one of them remark, "Crooks, the son of a b—h hasn't got any watch;" emphasis on the "got." Crooks' answer was, "Then take the d—n poncho, and let's be off." It was stripped off. The Doctor's horse had escaped down the road, and was recovered an hour afterward.

Dr. Adams, after sufficiently recovering from his blow and the fall from his horse, crawled into a corner of the fence, and lay a quiet spectator during the remainder of the fight. All this occurred within a few minutes. The doctor's hospital steward having captured a rebel, asked another rebel, whom he mistook to be one of his own regiment, to assist him to carry his prisoner to headquarters. As the doctor lay there in the snow and water, listening to and witnessing the ludicrous mistakes which both parties were constantly committing as to each other's identity, he says he could not refrain from laughing outright, despite the pain from his wounds.

Here came a party and commanded a soldier of the Eighth New York to "Get off that horse." "But why do you want me to get off? I belong to the Eighth." "So do we," answered the rebel; "but what Eighth do you belong to?" they asked. "To the Eighth New York, of course." "Then d—n you, you are in the wrong company: we belong to the Eighth Virginia"—and hitting the Union soldier a thwack over the head, soon obliged him to dismount. This was within not to exceed fifteen or twenty rods of two squadrons of the Fifteenth New York, which accounted for the backwardness of the cavalryman to believe them rebels. On coming to himself, he started off on a quick run for the Fifteenth New York, the rebels firing a dozen shots at him as he ran, which fortunately did not take effect. He reached the regiment in safety, and this soon brought them down with a dash, and the enemy put out. It was now getting light, and there was no longer any difficulty to discover where and who the enemy were. Our men began to follow and shoot them as they retreated. Many saddles went off empty. Very soon the camp was clear of the rebels, and our own men occupied the field.

"There is iron enough in the blood of a healthy man to make a ring large enough to wear on his finger; sulphur enough in his hair, unless he be bald-headed, to make a box of lucifer matches; lime enough in his bones to help build any amount of brick wall; flint enough to strike a light."

So says some writer on science. He should have added; and brass enough in several men to make a good sized kettle.

Henry W. Scott, of Bennington, Vermont, has been offered a salary of twenty-five hundred dollars a year to go to Brazil and superintend the erection of an enormous powder mill for that government, the total cost of which is to exceed one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

The mouth of the Colorado river is in possession of Mexico; all the rest belongs to the United States. The Mexican jurisdiction extends for about 30 miles over the outlet to an American river that is navigable from the Pacific ocean to the Salt Lake settlements. It was here the French a few weeks ago boarded one of our vessels and took from her a lot of powder.

At a recent seance at London of the Davenport Brothers, one of the audience, a gentleman named Draper, asked if he might be allowed to make a stab at the "spirit-hand," when it was projected from the "structure." Mr. Ferguson (the exhibitor of the Davenports) amid a roar of laughter, emphatically refused permission. A few minutes after, Mr. Draper asked that he might be allowed to try the effect of a revolver on the spirit hand; but Ferguson again declined to accede to the request. The audience drew their own conclusions from this incident.

Senator Farwell, of Maine, has made a good impression in Washington by his off hand speech upon the shipping interests affected by the war. He is a good specimen of a man physically, and is one of a family of twenty-one children by two mothers, fourteen of whom were sons, not one of the latter being in weight less than two hundred pounds, nor below six feet in height. The father is still living, and is nearly ninety-five years of age.

MONDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 13, 1865.

Loyal and Disloyal.

"He that is not with us is against us," may be truly said in the present crisis of our State. There can be no debatable ground, no neutrality, no position to occupy on the question of the integrity of the United States; to say yes or no, and the assurance of yes, while every act speaks no, is worse than equivocation, it is the most barefaced falsehood. "Loyalty," in the columns of the opposition press, is a term of ridicule towards those who enthusiastically support the Government in its efforts to put down the rebellion. There are men in every career and enterprise, whose zeal outruns their discretion, and it may be that such injure the Union cause with the calm and considerate, by advancing radical ideas and advocating extreme measures, that even the present terrible crisis does not demand; but it is not to this exception but to the general Union sentiment of the country, forming, as the elections show, the great majority of the American people, that these reckless panderers to vice and ignorance address themselves, with the certainty that they can thus create prejudice against the course the Government pursues to restore Union and harmony to our distracted country.

Our privilege as citizens includes free speech and a free press; that, we will not question the exercise of, to the full extent that any citizen can reasonably claim, but there is a limit, for while in time of war the minority endeavors to influence the passions of factions, when a majority has, as in our case, not only adopted a policy, but after years of experience have emphatically endorsed that policy, and supported the course pursued by the Government, then opposition to the Government becomes criminal, and really affords aid and comfort to the attempted destruction of the Union. The circulation of falsehood is bad enough, but the continual pursuance of a course, sure to embarrass the operations of the Government, to discourage enlistments, to depreciate the Government credit, and belie the officers who are striving to accomplish the duties the people have assigned to them; all those things contravene the rights of the people at large, and surpass the privileges accorded to any by the fundamental principles laid down in our Constitution and laws. Take up any one of the Democratic papers published in this State, and you will read only condemnation of the Government, quotations from the Southern rebel press supporting their own views, without a single expression of condemnation of the rebellion or of support of our own Government. When great National victories occur they do not rejoice, when cities, seaports and strongholds become ours, they prefer to predict future failure than coming victories. To put the matter in plainer shape they appear to be anxious to have the rebellion succeed, to have the Federal armies fail, to see the war continue, and most of all to see slavery survive, or else, why do they to-day, speak well of it, when even the Southern rebel knows that the institution is dead? Judging them by their words, we believe that these papers are at heart linked to the cause of the rebellion, and desire to see it succeed; that their pretence of loyalty is lip-service, while their hearts are disloyal.

President Lincoln expressed it as his belief that the majority of the voters of the Democratic party are loyal; that they desire to see the national cause succeed and the Union preserved. Believing this is so; that the President is right, and that the American people, by an overwhelming majority, are sound on this main question, we would ask the considerate voter who calls himself a Democrat, why his party is represented by such organs, why it has such mouthpieces? Is it not true that faction is having more to do with this opposition than principle? that a hope for power governs and directs an opposition that is in effect treasonable? and when and how will the rebellion be subdued if the obstacles put in the way of the Government succeed in having their desired effect?

We know several persons whose Southern proclivities are unmistakable. Born and bred upon Southern soil, sympathising with friends there—they are anxious to see the struggle end in Southern independence of Federal rule, but those men recognizing their allegiance as due to the United States, abstain from all interference with our national affairs, and refrain from all attempts to destroy the Government whose protection they enjoy, and whose right to put down rebellion they recognize while they do not hope for its success. Such men, pursuing a consistent course, contrast very favorably with the reckless demagogue and politician who, venturing all upon one desperate cast, will either rule or ruin. There is something due to the four hundred and twenty thousand majority who elected Mr. Lincoln; something more due to the million or more Democrats who voted for McClellan, to have the war prosecuted with increase of vigor, and the least that can be accorded by any patriotic mind, is to bid God speed the effort to crush secession and perpetuate the Union. It is no question of peace or war, for the war must now go on. The only issue is shall it drag for years to increase debt and misery North and South beyond all computation and power to pay, or shall all the loyal masses of the people unite to end it and at once?

Quartz near Celilo.—We are told by Mr. West of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, of a rich quartz ledge, or ledges, discovered on the farm of Col. Fulton on Ten Mile Creek, near Celilo. He saw specimens of the quartz brought into the Dalles, that was very rich in gold, and quite an excitement existed in consequence. Many persons had gone from Celilo and Dalles to locate claims. Sixteen claims were recorded in the Clerk's office at Dalles on Friday, which indicates quite an excitement about "feet" there, and much business for the Clerk. Col. Fulton has a title to the soil from the Government of the United States, and is inclined to consider the right of property vested in himself, while the miners stake off claims regardless of his pretensions. This will give rise to the interesting question—how much right does the United States patent convey? We await further developments, and are prepared to believe that good ledges can be found all around us.

A List of Losses.—The Montreal Ocean Steamship Company has lost nine steamers since 1857: The Canadian, in the St. Lawrence, 1857; the Indian, 1859; Hungarian, 1860; Canadian, (No. 2) 1861; North Briton, 1861; Anglo-Saxon, 1862, when 237 lives were lost; Norwegian, 1863; Bohemian, 1864, when 20 lives were lost; and last, the Jura, in the same year. Surely, a succession of disasters that might induce them to despair.

New Forts at Monterey.—Gen. McDowell has been making a flying visit to Monterey to inspect the fortifications there, and determine the necessity of making new ones.

A gold nugget of the value of $1,[illegible] was found by Messrs. Hans & Shimer, [illegible] the Placer [illegible] while working a claim [illegible] adjacent [illegible] of the tributaries of [illegible] ravine, a few days since. Where this specimen was found the diggings were not more than [illegible] in depth. At different times [illegible] the ten years [illegible] a number of large [illegible] have been found in the same vicinity. Probably there are more of the same sort left.

Among their coarse and [illegible] abuse of General Butler, the Copperhead papers find space to give the following [illegible] whether true or not: "It seems that the officer had little faith in the Dutch Gap Canal, and at a recent court-martial in the Army of the James, a soldier was sentenced to two years' hard labor on said canal. The report adds that Butler was disgusted, and dissolved the Court immediately upon hearing of the finding and sentence of the Court."

The National Development.—The Report of the Secretary of the Interior.—The report of the Secretary of the Interior, with the single exception of those portions of it which relate to the troubles with the Indians, may fairly be said to be unusually satisfactory. It is fortunately put before us in a business like shape, and without any effort we get an appreciable view of the progress of settlement in the national domain during the year; of the extent of territory prepared for settlement by public survey; of the allocation of the lands which have been alienated by the National Government during the year; of the prospect of mining operations and of rail [illegible] enterprises in the extreme West; of Indian hostilities; of public pensioners; of patents and of the census. Along with this we have suggestions for certain amendments in branches of the Interior Administration, which must more or less commend themselves to the attention of Congress. The public land alienated during the year reached over three and a quarter million acres. Pre-emptors [illegible] hold of, and paid in cash for something less than half a million acres; military warrants swallowed up more than half a million additional; over two hundred thousand were located with agricultural scrip; the States received above eight hundred thousand for railroads; and the Homestead Law carried off about a million and a quarter. The receipts in fifteen months came up to one million and nineteen odd thousand dollars. This was fully seven times more than the receipts during the first year of the war.

The Secretary presents a satisfactory summary of mining operations. And while he urges, what has often been urged before, that a special mining tax, or "royalty," as it is called in European countries, should be imposed, he strongly recommends, as a compensation for this, that public lands should be at once appropriated for opening up communication between such mining territories as Arizona, New Mexico, etc., and either the Pacific or Atlantic States.

The Pacific Railroad naturally comes in for a friendly word, although the progress which the Secretary is enabled to report is not of the most exciting character.

The family of national pensioners, it will be seen, has grown to over fifty-one thousand, who received in cash last year over four and a half million dollars, besides two hundred and eighty-six odd thousand acres of land. All but one million of this money-outlay went to the sufferers by this rebellion.

The mechanical ingenuity of the country finds some illustration in the fact that nearly seven thousand patents were applied for during the year, and that the receipts of the Patent Office reached over a quarter of a million.

The satisfactory moral of the report is the remarkable material progress of the country in this period of terrible war.—N. Y. Times.

Capture of British Arms for the Rebels.—The New York Herald of 24th December says:

Admiral Foster telegraphs to the War Department that the blockade-runner Rebel was captured by our gunboats on the 12th instant off New Inlet, having a large cargo of arms and ammunition on board. This may seem, in the ordinary course of events, a very insignificant circumstance, but, for all that, we think it a very important and significant item, as we shall show. In the early part of this month the blockade runner [illegible] was captured by the U. S. boat at [illegible], off Wilmington, with a large and valuable cargo consisting of rifles, [illegible] stores, [illegible] and blankets.

It will be remembered that we published a letter from our correspondent in [illegible] November, giving the particulars of a contract entered into with an English firm, Alexander [illegible] & Co. and the rebel government, for the [illegible] and delivery of [illegible] rifles, which were to be paid for at the rate of [illegible] for each rifle—the English [illegible] to take the whole risk of [illegible] the rebel port, and getting the [illegible] land. The cost of these guns [illegible] and the prices to [illegible] would be fully [illegible] margin of profit to cover [illegible] pretty evident that we have [illegible] of these rifles and other [illegible] which were probably [illegible] the English [illegible] Southern ports we know [illegible] remembered also that among the [illegible] Breckinridge, [illegible] of their small arms and [illegible] gun and dig up every [illegible] the earth [illegible] works. A supply of small arms is [illegible] the most pressing necessity of the rebels, and hence the large price paid for them [illegible] capturing these two vessels [illegible] have virtually won two important [illegible] because the enemy are sadly [illegible] out of which there is [illegible] get small arms from any other [illegible] when they read a newspaper account of the capture of two blockade runners with cargoes of rifles, have very little idea of how important the event is in crushing the power of the rebellion.

Mineral Lands.—The Nevada [illegible] gives the following outline of a system it thinks should be adopted in relation to the mineral lands:

1\. Let Mineral Land Offices be established at convenient points in the mining districts, and a system of surveys of the mineral lands be adopted, suited to the requirements of [illegible] which will respect the possessory [illegible] under district mining law.

2\. All claimants of mineral [illegible] by pre-emption, to be [illegible] a limited time [illegible] such lands, and thereupon be all [illegible] veins, ledges and three-[illegible] hydraulic diggings [illegible] price per foot [illegible] or rod [illegible] title to their claims.

3\. In case [illegible] the purchase [illegible] offered to [illegible]

4\. [illegible] of known loyalty [illegible] shall not be [illegible] under which they may hold [illegible] of any portion of the mineral lands [illegible] location whatever [illegible] such land is remaining in the [illegible]

5\. Special privileges and advantages [illegible] prospectors.

Prize Fight.—[illegible] Virginia City, M[illegible] and [illegible] when both became exhausted, and [illegible] $1,000 was divided between them [illegible] had not become exhausted [illegible]

[illegible]

I give [illegible] of the validity of an act [illegible] requiring all taxes [illegible] State [illegible]

[illegible] the large number who have already paid [illegible] the tax payers [illegible] reserved to the several County Treasurers [illegible] and currency [illegible] State tax [illegible] inequitable or heavy [illegible] the necessity of an extra session of the Legislature to relieve the State from pecuniary embarrassment.

In view of the strong [illegible] I must overrule the demurrer [illegible] having [illegible] any argument [illegible] points raised.

Did this question affect the tax payers of [illegible] the whole State, and it is very strong [illegible] question should be decided by a tribunal whose judgment shall be law [illegible] State.

In the meantime no injustice is done [illegible] individual tax payer. The assessments [illegible] form, and payable in that currency which is the standard of all commercial values, and the prevailing medium of our country [illegible] as can be made.

A New Discovery.—Gas Substitute.—[illegible] metal called Magnesium has lately been [illegible] making quite a [illegible] diameter [illegible] It gives, when lighted, a brighter light [illegible] the slightest [illegible] liable to explosion. It is considered invaluable for lighthouses and such purposes, and photographs can be taken admirably by it. Mr. [illegible] Smith [illegible] to take some views of the interior of the great Egyptian pyramid by its aid. When first made it cost [illegible] then came down [illegible] and now may be procured for £1 10s. A gentleman in this city has just received a [illegible] a small piece of the metal in fine wire [illegible] offer [illegible] a personal opportunity of [illegible] its peculiar properties. It is readily ignited by common matches, and emits a pure white light of the most intense brilliancy, even in broad daylight far exceeding the famed Calcium light in brightness. A small piece of the metal may be seen at our office.—[illegible]

Densest Fog.—On the 29th of December there was the thickest fog ever known in San Francisco. Objects were invisible green at a distance of thirty feet.

Dalles Directory.—Mr. [illegible] is about canvassing the Dalles to compile a directory of that thriving and enterprising place.

Governor Lyon's Lecture.—We trust [illegible] none who can attend the lecture of Governor L[illegible] will forget that it is to be delivered this even[illegible] The ladies of the Christian Commission have d[illegible] well, so far, in forwarding help for the soldi[illegible] and their efforts to present a series of lecture[illegible] the same object, should be encouraged. The [illegible] ture of Gov. Lyon is the first of the series, [illegible] will take place at the M. E. Church, instead o[illegible] the vestry of the Presbyterian Church, as [illegible] stated.

The Forts at the Mouth of the Columbi[illegible] We learn from parties who have lately visite[illegible] fortifications at the mouth of the Columbia r[illegible] that the work already completed is of an imm[illegible] character. At Cape Disappointment four of [illegible] guns are mounted into their places, one of 8-[illegible] bore, two of 11-inch bore, and one of 15-in[illegible] A number of the quarters at the Cape are com[illegible] ted. At Fort Stevens they have completed a l[illegible] bomb proof magazine, and the main entrenchm[illegible] surrounding the fortifications. The guns and [illegible] riages are on the ground, but none are moun[illegible] Capt. Jordon and Lieut. Yard have immed[illegible] charge of the works. The Forts will mount c[illegible] bined, some over thirty guns, Columbiads [illegible] large sized Rodman's, and will render the entra[illegible] to the Columbia exceedingly hazardous to an[illegible] vading foe. The work has been pressed with g[illegible] vigor to accomplish so much in so short a sp[illegible] of time.

Celebration at Belpassi.—The Washing[illegible] Literary Society of Belpassi, we are informe[illegible] private letters, will celebrate the 22d inst., as [illegible] been their custom for several years past. Qu[illegible] number of the students of Prof. Hender[illegible] school are to take part in the exercises. Rev [illegible] S. Boyakin, Editor of the Corvallis Gazette, [illegible] deliver the opening address at 11 o'clock a[illegible] and in the evening P. S. Knight, Esq. will de[illegible] an address. The programme of exercises con[illegible] se charades, dialogues, tableaux vivants, co[illegible] speeches, etc. The Aurora Brass Band will b[illegible] attendance, and enliven the audience with mu[illegible] The reading of a Literary Gazette forms one of [illegible] favorite parts of the entertainment.

The Jenny Jones.—We learn from Olympi[illegible] pers that Capt. Jones is running his vessel o[illegible] Sound and to Victoria, under very oppressive [illegible] unfair restrictions, and that unless the Cu[illegible] House officials grant him the same favors exte[illegible] to other craft, he will be obliged to draw o[illegible] line and run to Portland. We think he coul[illegible] equally as well at least, and for months past m[illegible] have found better opportunities, in the trad[illegible] Portland, than where he is at present employ[illegible]

The Pressure.—Mr. C. H. Myers has r[illegible] a water guage at his place of business for the [illegible] pose of showing the pressure of water fl[illegible] through the mains and pipes of the Port[illegible] Water Works. When the full head is permitt[illegible] press against the valve the dial indicates a [illegible] sure of 35 to 40 pounds to the square inch, w[illegible] is greater force, when compared to the steam g[illegible] under the common atmospheric pressure, tha[illegible] required to move a steamboat of the size [illegible] Wilson G. Hunt.

Indianian.—John Beeson, of Indian no[illegible] ety in Oregon, years since, has returned [illegible] Pacific coast, and is at present in Californ[illegible] thering his mission in behalf of the Indians [illegible] will leave for his old home in this State wi[illegible] short time, and expects to meet a hearty we[illegible] back as soon as he arrives at the wharf i[illegible] city.

[illegible]—Boucicault's great sensation drama of the Octoroon was produced at Willamette Theater in this city, on Saturday evening, with all its original effects. The building was crowded to its utmost capacity, with gentlemen and ladies, and during the entire length of time required to perform the piece, the most marked attention and interest was displayed by the crowded audience. The scene is located upon a Louisiana plantation, after the death of its owner, Judge Peyton, the affairs of the estate have become embarrassed, and through the villainy of Jacob McClosky, Mr. Waldron, is finally brought to sale, for the benefit of creditors. Zoe, the Octoroon, (Mrs. Irwin,) was the [illegible] daughter of a favorite slave, and had always lived and had loved by the Peyton's. McClosky obtains the paper granting her freedom and by [illegible] of the laws of the State that they are [illegible] the sale she is put up with the other slaves, and McClosky determined to purchase her, defiantly bids highest, and she becomes the property of the hardened scoundrel. Mrs. Peyton, Miss Belle Douglass feel that there is no help for it, and Zoe is to be sold at the [illegible] with all the other slaves and property to purchasers. As letters of credit had been extended by Judge Peyton to parties in England, who had failed, years before, and as news was been received of their recovery from financial embarrassments, Mrs. Peyton is in hope of receiving the principal and interest of their liabilities [illegible] late husband, which would now save her own financial ruin, and a letter is anxiously looked for from Liverpool. Paul, a quadroon boy, Master [illegible] as usual upon the arrival of the steamer, to the landing for the mail bag, taking with him an Indian associate, Wah-no-tee, Mr. Townsend, and upon their return they loiter about, dropping in at the place where a short time previous, the Overseer, Salem Scudder, (Mr. Irwin,) had been taking a daguerreotype of Dora Sunnyside, (Mrs. Getzler,) for George Peyton, nephew of the late Judge, (Mr. Robinson.) Curiosity attracts Paul to sit for his picture, and being alone with the Indian, arranges with the latter to remove the cloth from the camera, [illegible] distance, return and replace it. In the interim McClosky steals up [illegible] kills the boy, and robs the mail bag of its contents, securing the expected letter. The scene shows all. The old camera is found where it was [illegible] by the Indian, and in it is the evidence of McClosky's guilt, dim but positive, revealing also his acts in the mail robbery. He is tried, escapes, but is pursued by the Indian, captured, bleeding, raving and ragged, and the curtain drops upon his execution by Wah-no-tee. Zoe, is loved by George Peyton, and commits suicide, by taking poison, dying in his arms, just as the eventful letter from Liverpool turns up. The characters of the play were elegantly performed. Mr. Waldron ably sustained his San Francisco notoriety as McClosky; Mr. Irwin was perfect as overseer of Terrebonne, and Mrs. Irwin, as Zoe, performed in a style which gave another convincing proof—to use a hackneyed phrase—if proof were necessary, of the versatile character of that lady's talent, and we never saw a better pleased audience leave the old theatre.

GOVERNOR LYON'S LECTURE.—We trust that none who can attend the lecture of Governor Lyon will forget that it is to be delivered this evening. The ladies of the Christian Commission have done well, so far, in forwarding help for the soldiers, and their efforts to present a series of lectures for the same object, should be encouraged. The lecture of Gov. Lyon is the first of the series, and will take place at the M. E. Church, instead of at the vestry of the Presbyterian Church, as first stated.

THE FORTS AT THE MOUTH OF THE COLUMBIA.—We learn from parties who have lately visited the fortifications at the mouth of the Columbia river, that the work already completed is of an immense character. At Cape Disappointment four of the guns are mounted into their places, one of 8-inch bore, two of 10-inch bore, and one of 15-inches. A number of the quarters at the Cape are completed. At Fort Stevens they have completed a large bomb proof magazine, and the main entrenchments surrounding the fortifications. The guns and carriages are on the ground, but none are mounted. Capt. Jordon and Lieut. Yard have immediate charge of the works. The Forts will mount eventually some forty or thirty guns, Columbiads and large sized Rodmans, and will render the entrance to the Columbia exceedingly hazardous to an invading foe. The work has been pressed with great vigor to accomplish so much in so short a space of time.

CELEBRATION AT BELLEVUE.—The Washington Literary Society of Bellevue, we are informed by private letters, will celebrate the 22d inst., as has been their custom for several years past. Quite a number of the students of Prof. Henderson's school are to take part in the exercises. Rev. W. R. [illegible] Editor of the Corvallis Gazette, is to deliver the opening address at 11 o'clock A. M., and in the evening E. S. Knight, Esq., will deliver an address. The programme of exercises comprises charades, dialogues, tableaux vivants, comic speeches, etc. The Aurora Brass Band will be in attendance, and enliven the audience with music. The reading of a Literary Gazette forms one of the favorite parts of the entertainment.

THE ANNA CONES.—We learn from Olympia papers that Capt. Jones is running his vessel on the Sound and to Victoria, under very oppressive and unfair restrictions, and that unless the Custom House officials grant him the same favors extended [illegible] he will be obliged to draw off the line and run to Portland. We think he could do equally as well at least, and for months past might [illegible] better opportunities, in the trade of Portland, than where he is at present employed.

THE PRESSURE.—Mr. O. H. Myers has rigged a water gauge at his place of business for the purpose of showing the pressure of water flowing through the mains and pipes of the Portland Water Works. When the full head is permitted to press against the valve the dial indicates a pressure of 15 to 30 pounds to the square inch, which is greater force, when compared to the steam gauge, under the common atmospheric pressure, than is required to move a steam engine of the size of the [illegible]

[illegible]—John Beeson, of Indian notoriety in Oregon, years since, has returned to the Pacific coast, and is at present in California forming a [illegible] in behalf of the Indians. He will leave for his old home in this State within a short time, and expects to meet a hearty welcome back as soon as he arrives at the wharf in this city.

THE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—Notice is given in another column to the first annual meeting of the members of the Library Association of Portland. The names of the stated and a brief statement of the advantages of the Association, will appear in the advertisement of the Secretary. The [illegible] for annual charge, and the small fee for quarterly dues, certainly should [illegible] from the privileges of its rooms. The [illegible] the laborer, the mechanic and the [illegible] find matters of interest to themselves which would amply repay them to [illegible] to the Association.

NO NEWS.—The wires are down, beyond Roseburg, in this State.

SWEARING IN CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE.—"Castle," the Sacramento Union's Washington correspondent, thus describes the simple republican ceremony of inducting the Chief Justice into office:

It is only once in a lifetime that one has the opportunity of seeing a Chief Justice of the United States sworn into office. [illegible] Chase held his tenure of office with as strong [illegible] as did the late Taney, the [illegible] youths who gazed curiously at the simple ceremonial to-day will be tottering down the western slope of life before they see such another event in our history. But this morning the Courtroom was crowded with dignitaries, ladies and Congressmen, to witness the ceremony, which was to come off without any postponement. The doors [illegible] rush, of course, and the [illegible] tide overflowed into the sacred precincts of the Bar, where sat the [illegible] Tom. Ewing, the white-headed Reverdy Johnson, distinguished lawyers; Senator Sprague, Mrs. Kate Sprague and sister, gorgeous in billiancy, erect N. P. Banks, gray [illegible] Wade, and hosts of others. Beyond, in the rear of the Supreme Bench to the right, the elegant form of Sumner was leaning against one of the marble columns, his fine features too plainly showing his inward glow of gratification, while all around stood many a devoted disciple of Freedom, once scourged, but who, I know, was ready to say, "Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, for mine eyes have seen thy salvation." The solemnity of the chamber was broken by the voice of the usher, who announced in a loud voice, "The Honorable Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States;" whereupon, from a side entrance behind the Bench, appeared the gowned Justices, headed by Justice Wayne, the senior member of the Bench, and Chief Justice Chase. The Justices advanced to the front of their several chairs, stopped in front, bowed to the [illegible], bowed to the right and the left, remaining standing, bowed [illegible]. The new Chief Justice then stepped forward to his chair, and Justice Wayne handed him a paper containing the oath, which he opened and read with a loud but tremulous voice, as follows:

"I, Salmon P. Chase, do solemnly swear that I will, as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, administer equal and exact justice to the poor and to the rich, in accordance with the Constitution and laws of the United States, to the best of my ability."

Then, laying down the paper, he lifted his hand and said, with deep feeling, "So help me, God." A breathless hush pervaded the chamber, and the Chief Justice of the United States took his seat. Then the Clerk read the letters patent of the Chief Justice, with considerable tremor withal, and the ceremony was over and the routine business of the Court began.

NUMBER OF PRIZES TAKEN BY OUR NAVY.—It appears from statistics of the Navy Department, that up to the month of December last, 979 prizes had been captured from the enemy, including blockade runners. This answers the question often asked, whether our blockade has been effectual or not. We rather think it has in nearly two thousand instances. The next question is, Has the business of blockade running been a profitable one? If so, how many captures is it necessary to make to take the profit from that trade?

OIL DISCOVERIES.—A company in California with 2,000 shares is organized to sink for oil on the farm of Messrs. Moody, near San Jose—contractor to own half the concern when he draws sixty barrels of oil per day. Hope he has a long purse.

BURIED IN A SNOW SLIDE.—Three persons, named Williams, Nelson and Mercer, were buried in a snow slide at Markleeville, Cal., January 28. Another person was recovered alive, but the three above named were killed.

☛ TO LADIES ONLY.—To those of our readers who are happy in the possession of one of Grover & Baker's machines, it is no secret that the beautiful embroidery now all the rage, is as well and as easily done upon it as the plainest sewing. Our object is to inform those who are not the happy possessors of one of these invaluable inventions, that this is really the case. There are other good sewing machines, but this, by its marvelous properties, combines the facilities of both sewing and embroidering, and as it is the only one in the market that does, no lady about to purchase a sewing machine, in these days, will hesitate which to select, when the important fact we have stated is brought to notice.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER PAIN RELIEVING AND STRENGTHENING.—The history of these plasters would occupy more space than can be spared within the limits of this advertisement. Suffice it to say, that the most prominent chemists and physicians of the United States and Europe were consulted as to their composition. They are made porous, so that the evaporation of the perspiration can go on sufficiently where the plaster is applied, without, as with other plasters, causing the accumulation of acrid fluid, which excoriates the skin and causes many unpleasant sensations so necessary for the cure or alleviation of affections for which a plaster is usually applied. Indian rubber, myrrh, and other choice gums and essences of the vegetable kingdom, are the material ingredients of these celebrated plasters. While they are possessed of all the soothing and warming qualities of almost every other plaster of the United States Dispensatory, they are without many of their inconveniences. In the language of one who has experienced much relief from their application in a chronic disease of the kidney—"They stick closer than a brother, and do not run like a false friend." For weakness of the back, pains in the side, stomach or chest, and for the alleviation of the pain, attending rheumatism, they are without an equal.

The Agent in San Francisco, WILLIAM F. BRANDRETH, Office of Messrs. Crane & Brigham, will take great pleasure in forwarding the formula of these celebrated plasters to all Physicians who may desire to see it.

WISTAR'S BALSAM

—OF—

WILD CHERRY!

HAS BEEN USED FOR NEARLY

HALF A CENTURY,

WITH THE MOST ASTONISHING SUCCESS IN CURING

Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat. Influenza, Whooping, Cough, Croup, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, and every affection of the

THROAT, LUNGS, AND CHEST,

INCLUDING EVEN

CONSUMPTION.

There is scarcely one individual in the community who wholly escapes, during a season, from some one, however slightly developed, of the above symptoms—a neglect of which might lead to the last named, and most to be dreaded disease in the whole catalogue. The power of "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree over this class of complaints, is well known; so great is the good it has performed, and so great the popularity it has acquired.

In this preparation, besides the virtues of the Cherry, there are commingled with it other ingredients of like value, thus increasing its value ten fold, and forming a Remedy whose power to soothe, to heal, to relieve, and to cure disease, exists in no other medicine yet discovered.

The unequalled success that has attended the application of this medicine in all cases of

has induced many physicians of high standing to employ it in their practice, some of whom advise us of the fact under their own signatures. We have space only for the names of a few of these:—

S. H. FINLEY, M. D., San Francisco, Cal.
E. BOYDEN, M. D., Exeter, Me.
ALEXANDER HATCH, M. D., China, Me.
R. FELLOWS, M. D., Hill, N. H.
W. H. WEBB, M. D., Cape Vincent, N. Y.
W. B. LYNCH, M. D., Auburn, N. Y.
ABRAHAM SKILLMAN, M. D., Boundbrook, N. J.
H. D. MARTIN, M. D., Mansfield, Pa.

The proprietors have letters from all classes of our fellow citizens, from the halls of Congress to the humblest cottage, and even from beyond the seas; for the fame and virtue of WISTAR'S BALSAM have extended to the uttermost bounds of the earth, without any attempt on our part to introduce it beyond the limits of our own country.

TO CALIFORNIANS AND OREGONIANS.

After October 1, 1863, all genuine WISTAR'S BALSAM of WILD CHERRY for the Pacific Coast will be enclosed in a new wrapper which will bear the printed names of both SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston, Mass., and JOHN D. PARK, Cincinnati, Ohio, as well as facsimile of the signatures of "I. BUTTS," "SANFORD & PARK," and "H. WISTAR, M. D."

LE DOYEN'S

SARSAPARILLA, YELLOW DOCK

—AND—

IODINE ALTERATIVE

FOR THE

CONSTITUTION.

CLEANSE THE BLOOD.

WITH corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood you must be sick all over. It may burst out in pimples or sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. Sarsaparilla purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and repelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurities of the blood, such as Scrofula or King's Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, Syphilis or Venereal Diseases, Liver Complaints and Heart Diseases.

Blood and Liver.

This valuable Medicine is now available to the public for the cure of its operations are evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increasing the appetite. In cases of Dyspepsia, Emaciation and Debility, an increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid.

SCROFULA, CONSUMPTION, RHEUMATISM, CANCER, HEART, LIVER AND KIDNEY DISEASES, NEURALGIA, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, &c.

AS A TONIC,

Are you sick, feeble and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping over you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Le Doyen's Sarsaparilla, and cleanse out the disordered system—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again.

AS A LITHONTRIPTIC,

it has no equal; being chemically combined with Iodine, it possesses in a high degree the power of dissolving Stone in the Bladder, and urators of the kidneys, preventing gravel formation and enlargement of the prostrate glands, irritation of the neck of the bladder, dropsy, etc.

This Beautiful Life.

BY MRS. L. H. SIGOURNEY.

How beautiful this earth where God
His ceaseless bounty shows,
The drapery of autumnal fruits,
The fragrance of the rose,
And all the varied harvest wealth
That [illegible]

How beautiful the snowy flocks
That in green pastures feed,
The patient, plastic herds that aid
Their master's earthly need,
And with intelligence endued,
The noble, prancing steed.

How beautiful the human face,
Through whose expansive lines
[illegible] the dawn of infant grace
Or where bright youth refines,
Or age in [illegible], calm smiles,
Creative glory shines.

How beautiful the unfolded mind,
Where Reason lifts its urn,
And Knowledge stores its glittering gold,
And lights of Fancy burn,
The Memory bids the buried Past
In pictur'd tints return.

How beautiful the immortal Soul,
Its heavenly birth that feels,
And looking upward to its Sire,
With faith that meekly kneels,
Gains strength that brightens every joy,
And every sorrow heals.

How beautiful the life we lead,
That brightens [illegible] year,
And bends upon its brow the hope
Of a more perfect sphere.—
To fit us for that world, we'll strive
To be a blessing here.

The Old Cartman.

I have a little mind to tell a story. That it is brief may be seen at a glance; that it is true I most emphatically avow.

About five years ago or thereabouts John Ainsley—or "Pap Ainsley," as he was familiarly called—was the owner of a hand-car, and earned a living by conveying miscellaneous parcels from one section of the city to another, and receiving therefor the reasonable remuneration of twenty-five cents per load. To designate the occupation in the prosiest manner possible, he was a hand-cart man and when not employed he could always be found during working hours at the corner of Montgomery and California streets. His hair and long beard were quite gray, and his limbs feeble; and if he could not shove as heavy a load through the deep sand, or up the steep grade above him, as the stalwart Teuton on the opposite corner—thereby losing many a job and many a dollar, all the light loads in the neighborhood fell to his lot, and kind-hearted men not unfrequently traveled a square or two out of their way to give an easy job to 'Pap Ainsley.'

Four years ago last summer, (I recollect the month, for I had a note of $4,000 to pay and was compelled to do some pretty sharp financiering to meet it,) having some two or three dozen volumes to transfer to my lodgings, I gave 'Pap Ainsley' the job of transportation. Arriving at my room just as he had deposited the last armful on the table, and observing that the old man looked considerably fatigued after climbing three flights of stairs two or three times, I invited him to take a glass of brandy—a bottle of which I usually kept in my room for medicinal and soporific purposes. Although grateful for the invitation, he politely declined; I urged but he was inflexible. I was astonished.

"Do you never drink?"

"Very seldom," he replied, dropping into a chair, and wiping the perspiration from his forehead.

"Well, if you drink at all," I insisted, "you will not find as fair an excuse in the next twelve months for indulging, for you appear fatigued and scarcely able to stand."

"To be frank," said the old man, "I do not drink now. I have not tasted intoxicating liquor for fifteen years, since—"

"Since when?" I enquired thoughtlessly, observing his hesitation.

The old man told me. Sixteen years ago he was a well-to-do farmer, near Syracuse, New York. He had one child, a daughter. While attending a boarding school in that city, then a girl of sixteen years of age, she formed an attachment for a young physician. Acquainting her father with the circumstances, he flatly refused his consent to a union with a man whom he never saw, and removing her from school, dispatched a note to the gallant, with the somewhat pointed information that his presence in the neighborhood of the Ainsley farm would not meet with favor. The reader of course surmises the result. In less than a month there was an elopement. The father loaded his double-barreled shot gun and swore vengeance, but failing to find the fugitives, he took to the bottle. His good wife implored him not to give way to despair, but he drank the deeper, and accused her of encouraging the elopement. In three months his wife died, and at the expiration of a year, when the young people returned to Syracuse from Connecticut, where they had remained with the parents of the husband, they learned that the old man had sold his farm, squandered the proceeds, and was almost destitute. Learning their arrival, Ainsley drank himself into a frenzy, and proceeded to the hotel where they were stopping, attacked the husband, wounded him in the arm by a pistol shot, and attempted the life of his daughter, who happily escaped uninjured through the interposition of persons brought to the spot by the report of the pistol. Ainsley was arrested, tried, and acquitted on the plea of insanity. The daughter and her husband returned to Connecticut, since which time the father has not heard from them. He was sent to a lunatic asylum, from which he was dismissed after remaining six months. In 1851 he came to California. He had followed mining for two years, but, finding his strength unequal to the pursuit, returned to this city, purchased a hand cart, and—the rest is known. "Since then," concluded the old man, bowing his face in his hands in agony, "I have not tasted liquor, nor have I seen my poor child."

I regretted that I had been so inquisitive, and expressed to the sufferer the sympathy I really felt for him. After that I seldom passed the corner without looking for "Pap Ainsley," and never saw him but to think of the sad story he had told me.

One chilly, drizzly day in the December following, a gentleman having purchased a small marble-top table at an auction room opposite, proffered to the old man the job of carrying it to his residence, on Stockton street. Not wishing to accompany the carrier, he had selected the face probably giving the best assurance of careful delivery of the purchase.

Furnished with the number of the house, the old cart-man, after a pretty trying struggle with the steep ascent of California street, reached his destination and deposited the table in the hall. Lingering a moment, the lady did not surmise the reason, until he politely informed her that her husband (for such he took him to be,) had probably by accident omitted to settle for the carriage.

"Very well, I will pay you," said the lady, stepping into an adjoining room. She returned, and stating that she had no small coin in the house, handed the man a twenty dollar piece.

He could not make change. "Never mind, I will call to-morrow," he said, turning to go.

"No, no!" replied the lady, glancing pityingly at his white locks and trembling limbs, "I will not put you to so much trouble," and she handed the coin to Bridget, with instruction to see if she could get it changed at one of the stores or markets in the neighborhood.

"Step into the parlor until the girl returns; the air is chilly, and you must be cold," continued the lady. "Come," she adds, as he looked at his attire and hesitated; "there is a fire in the grate, and no one there, but the children."

"It is somewhat chilly," replied the old man, following her into the parlor, and taking a seat near the fire.

"Perhaps I may find some silver in the house," said the lady, leaving the room, "for I fear Bridget will not succeed in getting the twenty dollar piece changed."

"Come—I have little children," and the child, who had been watching him with curiosity, ran from behind the large arm chair, and hesitatingly approached. "What is your name, dear?" inquired the cartman.

"Maria," lisped the little one.

"Maria," he repeated, while the great tears gathered in his eyes; "I once had a little girl named Maria, and you look very much like she did."

"Did you?" inquired the child with seeming interest; "and was her name Maria Eastman, too?"

"Merciful God!" exclaimed the old man starting from his chair and dropping into it with his head bowed upon his breast. "This cannot be! and yet why not?"

He caught the child in his arms with an eagerness that frightened her, and gazing into her face until he found conviction there, suddenly rose to leave the house. "I cannot meet her without betraying myself, and I dare not tell her that I am that drunken father who once attempted to take her life and perhaps left her husband a cripple," he groaned, as he hurried toward the door. The little ones were bewildered. "You are not going?" said the mother, re-appearing, and discovering the old man in the act of leaving the hall.

He stopped and apparently turned his face, but seemed to lack the courage to do aught else.

"He said he had a little Maria once that looked just like me, mother," shouted the child, her eyes sparkling with delight.

The knees of the old cartman trembled, and he leaned against the door for support. The lady sprang towards him, took him by the arm, and attempted to conduct him to a chair.

"No, no," he exclaimed, "not till you tell me I am forgiven!"

"Forgiven—for what?" replied the mother, in alarm.

"Recognize in me your wretched father, and I need not tell you!" he faltered.

"My poor father," she cried, throwing her arms around his neck, "all is forgiven—all forgotten!"

All was forgiven, and the husband when he returned late in the afternoon, was scarcely less rejoiced than his good wife, at the discovery. Whether or not Bridget succeeded in changing the double eagle, I never learned; but this I do know, it took the honest female all of two months to unravel the net into which the family had tied themselves during her absence. "Pap Ainsley" still kept his cart, for money would not induce him to part with it. I peeped into the back yard of Dr. Eastman one day last week, and discovered the old man dragging his favorite vehicle round the enclosure with his four grandchildren piled promiscuously in it.—San Francisco Golden Era.

USE OF SILK.—Silk is an agreeable and healthy material. Used in dress, it retains the electricity of our bodies; in the drapery of our rooms and furniture covers it reflects the sunbeams, giving them a quicker brilliancy, and it heightens colors with a charming light. It possesses an element of cheerfulness of which the dull surface of wool and linen are destitute. It also promotes cleanliness, will not readily imbibe dirt, and does not harbor vermin as kindly as wool does. Its continually growing use by man, accordingly, is beneficial in many ways. Grace and beauty, even, owe something to silk. You cannot stiffen it like thick woolen or linen without destroying all its gloss and value. The more silk ribbons, therefore—the more silk kerchiefs and robes are used, instead of linen and wool—the more graceful becomes the outward aspect of mankind. A number of strange grotesque fashions, originating in the use of linen, would never have been invented during the more general employment of silk. The fluttering of ribbon, the rustling and flowing skirts of silk, the silk kerchief loosely knotted round the neck, have materially contributed to make our customs more natural and pleasing to the eye.

The ladies are so vain of their hair that they are proud of getting it into the papers.

LILLIE'S LOCK OPENED

In One Minute.

NEW YORK, September 2, 186[illegible].

F. TILLMAN, Esq., 318 Battery street,
Between Commercial and Clay, San Francisco.

DEAR SIR, WE NOTICE AN ADvertisement in your daily papers respecting the "security" of the "Lillie" lock. We are aware that you well understand this lock, and, of course, will not allow yourself to be annoyed by such representations. We have just sent for one of our men at the factory, and he, in our presence, opened one of Lillie's best safe locks, after it had been locked and the combination turned on,

By One Blow of the Hammer

Against the knob on the outside, and thereby breaking the cast iron bolt inside.

The whole time occupied in opening the lock was about ONE MINUTE. We send you this lock that your friends may not be deceived by false representations, etc.

Respectfully, etc.,

GLASTENBURY, March 26, 1864.

Messrs. TILTON & McFARLAND,
Safe Manufacturers, Boston, Mass.:

Gentlemen: From representations made by Mr. Lillie, I was induced to purchase of him one of his

So Called "Fire Proof Safes."

On the 18th of February last, a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all in the safe. After the fire the so-called safe was taken from the ruins, and on opening it we found that Everything had been Destroyed.

We send you the safe, with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one of them is legible or strong enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in the fire, we noticed McKenzie & Hardy just opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make) and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material in Messrs. M. & H.'s cellar—such as lard, pork, etc., their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the [illegible] business and had [illegible] little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes here subjected to the same fire, faring, however, no better than ours.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,
(Signed,) GEO. L. CHESBORO & CO.

Proclamation

State of Oregon, Executive Department,
January 12th, [illegible]

WHEREAS I HAVE RECEIVED A REQUISITION from Major General Irvin McDowell, commanding the Department of the Pacific, acting under the authority of the War Department, [illegible] for a further term of years, [illegible] Regiment of Cavalry [illegible] to the [illegible] Infantry of the Militia [illegible]

Now therefore, I, ADDISON C. GIBBS, Governor of the State of Oregon, [illegible]

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Oregon to be affixed. Done at Salem the 12th day of January A. D. 186[illegible]

ADDISON C. GIBBS,
Governor of Oregon.

Attest: SAMUEL E. MAY,
Secretary of State.

Plan of Recruiting.

The Regiment will retain the name of the 1st Cavalry Oregon Volunteers. It will consist of twelve Companies; seven Companies of the old Regiment will be recruited to the minimum strength required. Five new Companies remain to be raised. A Recruiting officer for each new Company will be appointed.

Commissions will be issued by the Governor to Recruiting officers, conditioned that they shall recruit their respective Companies in the District to which they are assigned, and be ready to be mustered into the service within a time hereafter to be fixed. All the Officers for the new Companies and the First and Second Lieutenants for the old ones will be appointed as soon as the Companies are filled.

As soon as it is practicable the State will be divided into Districts, according to the number of persons in each liable to do military duty and the number of troops heretofore furnished. [illegible]

The State has provided by law for the payment of a bounty of $150 in State interest bearing bonds, payable in gold to each Volunteer mustered into the service for three years, [illegible] paid by the United States.

Under Act of Congress, those who enlist for one year are entitled to a bounty from the General Government of one hundred dollars; for two years, two hundred dollars; and for three years, three hundred dollars, one-third of which is payable at the time of muster-in. Neither drafted men nor substitutes [illegible] either before or after the draft are entitled to bounty.

The wages of a Private soldier are $16 a month, besides clothing, equipments, rations, medicines and medical attendance, and other allowances furnished by the United States.

The pay per month is to 1st Sergeants of Cavalry, $[illegible]; Sergeants, $20; Corporals $18; Buglers, $16. A Company can be mustered in on reaching a minimum of 82 enlisted men.

All the Horses for enlisted men will be furnished by the Government.

Appreciating highly the patriotic action of the people in responding to the previous call for an Infantry Regiment, it is hoped that equal alacrity will be exhibited in raising a Regiment of Cavalry.

Organization of a Regiment.

One Colonel,
One Lieut. Colonel,
Three Majors,
One Surgeon,
Two Assistant Surgeons,
One Regimental Adjutant, (an extra lieutenant,)
One Reg'l Quartermaster, (an extra lieutenant,)
One Reg'l Commissary, (an extra lieutenant,)
One Veterinary Surgeon,
One Sergeant Major,
One Quartermaster Serg't,
One Commissary Sergeant,
Two Hospital Stewards,
One Saddler Sergeant,
One Chief Trumpeter.

Organization of a Company.

One Captain,
One First Lieutenant,
One Second Lieutenant,
One First Sergeant,
One Quartermaster Sergeant,
One Commissary Sergeant,
Five Sergeants,
Eight Corporals,
Two Trumpeters,
Two Farriers or Blacksmiths,
One Saddler,
One Wagoner.

The minimum number of enlisted men required for a Company is 82; the maximum number, 101.

[illegible] the army hospital—the bloody battlefield—the [illegible] and the [illegible] of the civilized world [illegible] the wonderful effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands and thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., [illegible] 1864.

[illegible] I have been in the army hospitals [illegible] months—speechless and deaf [illegible] Drs. [illegible] bottle of Plantation Bitters [illegible] restored my speech [illegible]

C. A. FLAUTE.

[illegible], July 28, 1863.

[illegible] One young man who had been sick for a long [illegible] with scrofula and [illegible] without benefit, has [illegible] Plantation Bitters.

EDWARD WOOLN[illegible].

The following is from the manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:

HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH STREET,
New York, August 1, 1863.

DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children, suffering from weakness and weak lungs, with most happy effect. One little girl in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well.

Respectfully, Mrs. O. M. DEVOE.

[illegible] I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.

REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y.

[illegible] Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use. Thy friend,

ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa.

[illegible] I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. [illegible] The Plantation Bitters have cured me.

REV. C. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y.

[illegible] Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which is daily increasing with the guests of our house.

SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

[illegible] I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.

G. W. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

[illegible] The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my business.

H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O.

[illegible] The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.

C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y.

etc. etc. etc. etc. etc.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots and Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon, is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our log cabin bottle. Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterious stuff, for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and our signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.

NOTICE,

TO CONTRACTORS AND BUILDERS.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at County Clerk's office until 10 o'clock, A. M., of Wednesday, the 8th day of March next, for the building of a Court House on Block 58, in the City of Portland, for use of Multnomah county. A plan and specifications thereof may be seen at the office of the County Clerk of said county. Separate bids are solicited as follows:

1st. For the erection and completion of the entire Building, in accordance with said plans and specifications, estimating cost thereof with and without heating apparatus.

2d. For the erection and completion of a portion only of said building, viz: Erecting, enclosing, and outside finishing of the building, finishing the basement, jail, cells, and rooms, on the south side of the main entrance and on the first floor; and for finishing all the stairs and along all the floors in accordance with said plan and specifications, estimating cost thereof with and without heating apparatus.

The contract will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder. Each bidder is required to submit with proposal the names of two or more responsible sureties. The Commissioners reserve the privilege of rejecting any and all bids. Payment for the [illegible] price to be made in coin.

Published by order of County Commissioners.

HEART,

LIVER, KIDNEYS,

DIGESTIVE ORGANS and GLANDULAR SYSTEM,

and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation, it was almost useless until Dr. Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York, after a series of patient labor and experiment, discovered a [illegible] which enabled him to dissolve

PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER,

without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world, is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr. J. R. Chilton of this city and Prof. Booth, U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was soon [illegible] by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended in practice. (See "American Medical Monthly," July 6, 1856, page 59.)

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc.

AS A TONIC

It operates in a manner to strengthen the digestive organs and increase nutrition of the body; the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; before pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid.

ALLEN'S

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction, even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness, (which is the case with most remedies,) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,

Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease any way connected with the derangement or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons broken in mind, or conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once braced, revived and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The staggering, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect; he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom or an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor. The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER, INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, AND
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRANGURY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL URINATING,
CALCULUS, GRAVEL,
BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. Try it in these cases and you will not regret it.

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Males or Females,

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back, and through your hips? CONSTITUTION WATER will relieve you like magic.

LEFFEL'S AMERICAN

DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL!

LEFFEL'S AMERICAN TURBINE HAS many advantages over all other Wheels, both Turbines and Overshot.

It has competed successfully with every variety of Wheel, and has always proved itself superior.

This Wheel has been in use nearly Three Years in the States and HAS NEVER MADE A FAILURE.

It is CHEAPER than an Overshot, MORE DURABLE, and will YIELD [illegible] PER CENT. OF POWER from the same quantity of water. We have introduced five on this coast. They are not all in operation yet, but will be in a few days. The following testimonial is from an old and experienced Millwright, well known in this State:

WESTPORT, CLATSOP CO., OREGON, Nov. 19th, 1864.

Messrs. LEFFEL & MYERS—Dear Sirs: We have plenty of water now, and your DOUBLE TURBINE is in successful operation. We are satisfied that your Wheel is fully equal, if not superior to the Overshot. With the same water that the Overshot uses, we can do more work with the Turbine than with the Overshot. I have tried many Wheels which were claimed to be superior to an Overshot but yours is the first I have found. I can with confidence recommend the American Double Turbine as the most efficient expenditure of water in my knowledge.

THE OREGONIAN,

A

FIRST-CLASS POLITICAL AND FAMILY NEWSPAPER

Published Daily and Weekly.

PROSPECTUS FOR THE FIFTEENTH VOLUME,
Commencing November 19th, 1864.

The character of the OREGONIAN, which has been constantly issued for fourteen years, (being the oldest newspaper in the State,) has become so well established, and is so favorably known, that we hardly deem it necessary at the present time to announce that it will continue to be a FIRST-CLASS INDEPENDENT FAMILY AND POLITICAL NEWSPAPER. We shall spare no efforts as well for their improvement and progress, and to make the OREGONIAN not only a complete compendium of current news and passing events, but also a pleasant fireside companion and a faithful commercial guide. It will contain full reports of important National, military and political events, with stories, sketches, Poetry, Editorials on current topics, Correspondence from different sources and Telegraphic Despatches up to the time of going to press.

It is the only paper in Oregon that gives full and unabridged Telegraphic Reports, and that receives these reports in full, expressly for its own columns.

The size of the WEEKLY is much enlarged with the commencement of the present volume, but the price is still at the low sum of THREE DOLLARS per annum, hoping thereby to obtain an increase of circulation as a reward of our enterprise.

Our columns will be devoted to the advocacy of Union principles, and we hope by a candid and courteous discussion of political principles to command readers of every political complexion and the respect of all our readers.

We shall specially endeavor to conserve the interests and merit the patronage of the large and important mining regions of Idaho, Washington and our own State, and publish all matters of interest relating thereto, and do justice to their growth and importance, and shall endeavor to receive interesting and reliable correspondence from that section of country.

"Unquestionably the best sustain[illegible] of the kind in the World."

HARPER'S

NEW MONTHLY MAGA[illegible]

Critical Notices of the Press.

It is the foremost Magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's M[illegible].—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore).

The most popular Monthly in the world.—N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellence of HARPER'S MAGAZINE—a journal with a monthly circulation of 17,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood-cuts; and it combines in itself the racy [illegible] the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Guide to American Literature, London.

The volumes bound constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the same compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.
